To ensure smooth end-to-end delivery of your products, we offer inland transportation services in one single connection in our store door service delivery. With this service we offer a door delivery inclusive of container return at any of all hinterland depots in Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, and El Salvador without any additional charge once its included.

Container return fees called drop off charges may vary from ranges depending on the country and may be subject to prior coordination. If you have store door delivery with Maersk, you will receive this service inclusive in your proposal without any additional charge. Should you want to include this service in your negotiation please contact your sales representative.

Container Return fees in hinterland depots (drop off) may be applicable if store door delivery is not included in the BL and if consignee chooses to return the empty container in any location different than the port (POD). Container empty return is free from charge at ports.
